

Select an item to navigate between sections

LAMS: Why the sky is blue?

My Course Guide

LAMS: Why the sky is blue

Meet the Sage, the Cynic and the Novice

Not started

Brainstorming

Not started

Brainstorming - Video and Activity

Not started

Quiz 1

Not started

Assessment #1
4 Questions

Not started

Instructional Method: Discussion

Not started

Videos on Discussion

Not started

Course Progress

View Feedback

Submit Course for Review

LAMS Lesson: Why the sky is blue?

In this interactive lesson, you will explore with your colleagues the physics that make our sky blue. You will be grouped with 4 other colleagues to collaborate and work on this sequence. First, we'll do a brief introduction, then in groups you will get to discuss why you think the sky is blue. Then, we'll look at the science behind this and collectively will arrive to the conclusion. Ready?

Start Lesson!

Learn Next

Meet the Sage, the Cynic and...

Initial Notebook

This notebook gives you a private area where you can reflect on your existing ideas about your problem before you start the group tasks - record your initial ideas about the solution to this problem, as well as any ideas about how you would go about researching this topic further.

Next Activity

Why the sky is blue?

PBL Welcome

Your Problem

Initial Reflection

Analyse Problem

Discuss&PlanResearch

Research

Followup Discussion

Solution to Problem

Problem Feedback

Solution Discussion

Notebook

Congratulations, Ernie Ghiglione, you have finished.

You have now completed the Why the Sky is blue? lesson. You can return at anytime to this lesson and revisit and review activities by double clicking on the blue icons in the left hand progress bar. You can now close this window.

Finish

Share Something

Find Anything

2 Course Catalog

Interactive Instructional Methods

Go to Network

Course

Assessments

Media library

Discuss with Tutor-Student

Select an item to navigate between sections

LAMS: why the sky is blue?

My Course Guide

LAMS: Why the sky is blue?

Meet the Sage, the Cynic and the Novice

Not started

Brainstorming

Not started

Brainstorming - Video and Activity

Not started

Quiz 1

Not started

Assessment #1
4 Questions

Not started

Instructional Method: Discussion

Not started

Videos on Discussion

Not started

Course Progress

View Feedback

Submit Course for Review

LAMS Lesson: Why the sky is blue?

In this interactive lesson, you will explore with your colleagues the physics that make our sky blue. You will be grouped with 4 other colleagues to collaborate and work on this sequence. First, we'll do a brief introduction, then in group you will get to discuss why you think the sky is blue. Then, we'll look at the science behind this and collectively will arrive to the conclusion Ready?

✓ You have now completed this lesson. Your score: 8/10 .

You can Review the lesson again or continue to Meet the Sage...

Learn Next

Meet the Sage, the Cynic and...

New

Open

Save

Copy

Paste

Transition

Optional

Flow

Group

Annotate

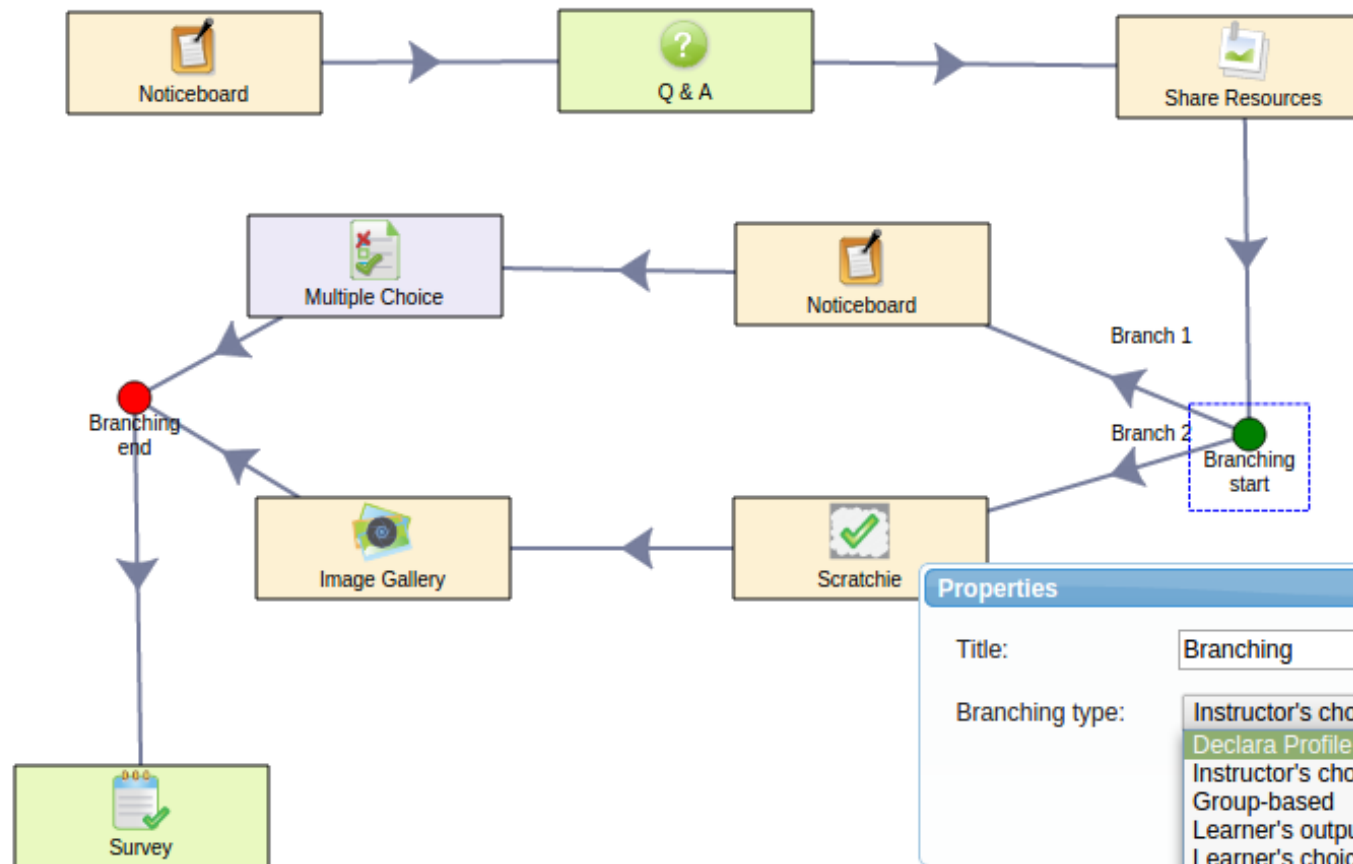

Arrange

Preview

All

Declar lesson *

- Image Gallery
- Kaltura
- Leader Selection
- Mindmap
- Multiple Choice
- Notebook
- Noticeboard
- Pixlr
- Q & A
- Resources and Forum
- Scratchie
- Share Resources
- Spreadsheet
- Submit Files
- Survey

Properties

Title:

Branching

Branching type:

- Instructor's choice
- Declar Profile
- Instructor's choice
- Group-based
- Learner's output
- Learner's choice

New

Open

Save

Copy

Paste

Transition

Optional

Flow

Group

Annotate

Arrange

Preview

All

Untitled *

Properties

Title:

Grouping type:

Random

Declara groups

Random

Choose in Monitor

Learner's choice

Number of groups:

Number of learners:

Name Groups

Assessment

Chat

Chat and ScribeCommon
CartridgeData
Collection

Forum

Forum and Scribe

Gmap

Image
Gallery

Kaltura

Leader
Selection

Mindmap

Multiple Choice

Notebook

Noticeboard

Pixlr

Q & A